It becomes my duty, as auditor to state that a mistake was made in the warrant to the treasurer for 1890 stating the amount of the taxes to be $2429.34. The records and collector's book show the amount to be $2490.29. Of this amount the treasurer's accounts show that $1163.50 was received last year and $1054.65 this year, leaving a balance due the town of $272.14. This evidently was overlooked as it is just the amount of the non-resident tax. It however becomes a complicated affair from the fact that the collector assumed the taxes and has settled with the town.

The balance of the appropriation for the purchase of text books and supplies should be paid. Money raised for a specific purpose cannot lawfully be used or held for another. A better understanding of the laws by which we should be governed will lead to a correction of these mistakes.

SETH W. MINER, Auditor.

REPORT

OF THE

School Board Town of Lyman

FOR THE

Year Ending March 1, 1892.

Prudentially the school district of the town of Lyman was divided as follows: W. W. R. Miner, schools Nos. 4, 5; Cyrus Wheelock, schools Nos. 1, 2, 7; Seth W. Miner, schools Nos. 3, 6. The work of the superintendent was divided as follows: W. W. R. Miner, schools Nos. 2, 4, 5; Seth W. Miner, schools Nos. 1, 3, 6, 7.

No. 1—PARKER HILL.

Summer term, taught by Mrs. Kate S. Buzzell of Benton. About half of the pupils were absent at the closing examination, but we are satisfied that fair progress was made by most of the scholars.

Fall term, taught by Miss Carrie M. Moore. The pupils were interested in their studies, received a thorough drill and passed an excellent examination. The school was quite satisfactory to all. Number of visitors for the year, 15.

No. 2—CLOUGH HILL.

Summer term, taught by Miss Belle E. Somers. Miss Somers is a very enthusiastic teacher and is sure to interest her pupils. Good progress was made. Department excellent.

Fall term, taught by Miss Laura J. Clough. Miss Clough is a very practical teacher, displaying much tact and judgment in the school room. General improvement very satisfactory. Number of visitors for the year, 35.

No 3—MOULTON HILL.

Summer and Fall terms. Both terms were taught by Miss Grace B. Webster of Landaff. The school was very orderly and the examinations showed thoroughness and good progress in the branches taught. Number of visitors for the year, 20.

No. 4—TINKERVILLE.

Summer term, taught by Mr. M. R. Glazier of Lisbon. Mr. Glazier worked hard and is deserving of credit, yet there was a manifest lack of blackboard demonstration which experience will overcome. We report fair progress.

Winter term, taught by Miss Laura J. Clough. Miss Clough has the happy faculty of adapting herself to circumstances and in this term was successful in satisfying all interested parties that reasonable progress had been made. Number of visitors for the year, 24.

No. 5—POND.

Summer term, taught by Miss Dora A. Welch of Lisbon. Miss Welch is a very conscientious worker in the school room. Progress in studies very good. Deportment not the best.

Fall term, taught by Mrs. Emma Miner. Mrs. Miner worked very hard, introducing new methods in some cases, thereby doing nearly double work. One special feature noted in all the classes was thoroughness.

No. 6—UNDER THE MOUNTAIN.

Summer term, taught by Miss Nell T. Lang of Bath. Miss Lang taught a good school. Commendable improvement was made, considering the shortness of the term.

Fall term, taught by Miss Ellen L. Young of Lisbon. Miss Young was interested in her school, sought the best methods, the advancement and welfare of her pupils. The term was a pleasant and successful one. Number of visitors for the year, 35.

No. 7—WOOLSON.

Winter term taught by Miss Mabel R. Clough of Lisbon. A combination of circumstances prevented a closing examination and we are unable to report the progress made. Miss Clough had previously taught in town and doubtless in the work of this term is deserving of credit. The school was small, not all the pupils attending who were expected to at the beginning of the term.

The number of children in town between the ages of five and fifteen years, as reported by the selectmen, is 87.

A fair degree of prosperity has attended our schools the past year, and those pupils who have been constant in their attendance have shown by their progress the results of diligence and good instruction.

The first requisite for a successful school is the presence of the pupils. A good percentage of attendance is indicative of a successful school. It is the general rule that those who find the most fault are those who are irregular in attendance, and unwilling to submit to lawful authority. Constant and regular attendance conduces to habits of punctuality and reliability, both of which are nearly indispensable to success in life. In the employment of teachers we have first recognized the merits and claims of home talent. Fantastic notions regarding intellectual necessities have been deplorably lamentable in their results, as subsequent tutoring has repeatedly and uniformly demonstrated. Educational dreamers and theorists are sometimes violently interrupted, and sooner or later may be confronted with naked actualities rather than with their somnambulistic illusions. "Proven theories" procure knowledge, but wisdom is more than both, it being the offspring of observation and experience.

A word to parents: Visit the schools often, thereby encouraging the pupils. Co-operate with the teachers and school officers in trying to make our schools better. It behooves us all, parents, friends of education, and citizens especially, to maintain our schools that the underlying principles of piety, justice, truthfulness, love of country, humanity, chastity, industry and temperance may be impressed upon the minds of our children.

Respectfully submitted by

W. W. R. MINER, Chairman.
